"Our Town" by J. B. WHITE

We are breaking a precedent of long standing today by printing a communication that is unsigned. We do this because we have verified in large part the statements made. Newspapers, no matter how true may be the communication, do not permit unsigned letters to get into print. In breaking this precedent we feel that a justifiable rebuke will be given to those of whom we have the right to expect better, whoever they may be. So here goes, Dear Teen-Age Friend. Our name is here and we will get the full blast of wrath, but we believe you are right and we are for you:

"Cameron, Texas,
"May 25, 1946.

"Dear Mr. White,

"They say, 'It can't happen here!'"

"That is the thought in the minds of many of our citizens. Or it is the sentence whispered by our people in social circles.

"No, there is no possibility of having Child Delinquency in Cameron. Our parents think that they can build a 'social fance' around their children and they can't see through the pickets. 'And, too, Child Delinquency is found only in larger cities.' So how could we have such a deplorable situation here?

"But we can, and will!

"How do I know? I may only be a high school graduate, but I being a teen-ager, think I have as good an opinion on this subpect as any public-minded citizen. I have always been taught to follow in the foot-steps of my elders—a true road to perfection.

"But I wonder about the aforesaid statement, as do many of my teen-age friends, who attended the Centennial Dance at the Gym Friday night. It was disgusting! At the beginning of the dance, everything was grand, as the crowd was composed mostly of the junior group. But as the dance

Dr. Roy Reed Returns To Take Up Duties As Health Unit Leader

Dr. Roy Reed, overseas veteran, has returned to his old home in Cameron to head the county health unit.

Dr. Reed resigned this post and entered the United States Navy in 1942. He was stationed in England for two and a half years.

Dr. T. E. Crump, who was head of the health unit during the war, will return to his private practice. In leaving the unit Dr. Crump, who is health officer in the city, expressed his appreciation for the cooperation he has received and urged the people to cooperate with Dr. Reed in the same manner.

REV. E. O. HARRELL IS PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR

Rev. E. O. Harrell, new minister at the Presbyterian church, has arrived to make his home in Cameron.

Rev. Harrell was in the pulpit Sunday and will be here regularly each week.

He was marired in Beaumont on May 15 and is soon to occupy the manse here with his bride. The minister's home has been redecorated.

The church has had no pastor since the resignation last year of Rev. John Solomon, although the pulpit has been supplied from time to time. Rev. Harrell has been installed as pastor.

Cheer Up! Frost Will Kill Weeds and Old Age Will Get Mosquitoes

In the spring and early summer in Cameron after the monsoons have passed, children sometimes get lost in the high grass along the sidewalks, but so far they have all been rescued by searching parties and except for a few hours of jungle experience, are unharmed.

In places weeds are waist high and Johnson grass grows head tall, overlapping the walk ways and spreading into the streets. In some sections of the business district it is nothing uncommon to see a small tree springing up from the crumbling sidewalk or to find grass. During the Centennial some of the growth was badly trampled but will be back soon and horses and cows may be staked again.

We have a unique method of keeping our city tidy and clean. At least it is inexpensive and what's more important it requires no work or energy. Frost will come this winter and kill the weeds, and the mosquitoes will die of old age.

FRANK HALEY FILES FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Mr. Haley will make a complete statement within a few days. He was busy Monday making filings with Democratic chairmen in the several counties.

What some people do not know about the world is only equalle' by what they do not know about themselves.

It has been generally known that Mr. Hicks would seek a second term, and his formal announcement this week it gratifying to his many friends throughout the county.

Everyone who has had occasion to consult him has been impressed with the careful and courteous consideration which his problem has received and with the sincere effort made to find a satisfactory solution of that problem.

The problems of the office were many and varied during the war period. Immediately upon his appointment to the office in March 1942, he was given the task of administering throughout the county the registration for War Ration Book One. The splendid cooperation which he received from the superintendents and teachers throughout the county made this registration and others which followed highly successful.

Mr. Hicks served as County Chairman of the War Finance Committee

SCHOOL TAX DEFEATED IN TUESDAY ELECTION

With only 246 votes polled the proposed 25c tax increase to pay added salaries for teachers in the Cameron schools, was defeated by a majority of 23 vites on Tuesday.

The vote: against the tax 133; for the tax 110.

Confusion followed a misunderstanding of the form of the ballot. The major contributing cause of the defeat of the proposed tax was lack of organization and lack of time to inform the people about the merits of the issue.

The election was called during the Centennial and all interested business men and citizens were engaged in the job of putting over the celebration. This situation may have contributed to the lack of leadership. Opponents of the proposed tax staged a late afternoon drive to defeat with proponents unorganized and a deplorable lack of interest.

ROCKDALE HOMECOMING WILL BE HELD SUNDAY

The Rockdale Homecoming Association is completing plans for the 13th annual reunion to be held at Fair Park on Sunday, June 9. Mrs. C. M. Sessions of Rockdale is president.

An invitation is being extended, through the press, to all former Rockdalians to attend the affair. Due to post-war conditions the association requests that those planning to attend this one-day meeting bring picnic baskets. Tables for the lunch will be arranged in the large open pavillion and there will be supplied ice tea and water.

Prior to 1942 when the asociation became inactive for duration of war, a barbecue dinner was provided the crowd. Up to that date, the organization had grown to a crowd of around 500 persons, eminating from a small group of former Rockdalians who through affection for their old home in 1933 arrived unannounced one Sunday with picnic baskets, and summoned a few of the local citizens to inform them they had come to organize a Rockdale Homecoming Association. It is the ambition of the organization to reach a high mark of attendance as time goes on.

Mrs. Dan G. Davis, 96, Who As a Child, Knew General Sam Houston, Buried At Sharp; Family Moved to Independence Before the Civil War

Mrs. Dan G. Davis, 96, widow of the late pioneer and Confederate veteran, Dan G. Davis, of Sharp, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Pace of Grand View, Texas, on Monday, May 27.

Mrs. Davis was born in Walton county, Georgia, in November 1849 and came with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Graves, to Old Independence in Washington county. Dr. Graves was a dentist.

Independence in those days was the site of Baylor University, established while Texas was a republic.

As a young child she knew General Sam Houston and liked to tell stories of the famous Texas revolutionary leader who won the battle of San Jacinto and became the second President of the republic. Mrs. Davis in late years often exhibited a small wooden toy the General carved for her with his knife from wood. She said that when the General started whittling he was planning campaigns. As a child she sat on his lap and he told her stories of his great adventures.

The body was returned to the home at Sharp where on Tuesday, May 28, funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Frank Tulloch, pastor of the First Baptist church in Rockdale, conducted the services at 4 p. m. and burial was made in the cemetery at Lilac where her late husband is buried and two of her sons. Pallbearers were grandsons: Berry Davis, Jr., Floyd Davis, Felix Cabell, Nelson Davis, Ragsdale Pace, John Davis, Billy Davis and George Triggs.

Mrs. Davis, due to her age and failing health, had not been active for several years. Her eyesight failed some time ago but despite these handicaps she remained cheerful to the end and was happy to have her relatives and friends to visit her. For some time she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Tom Pace in Grand View.

The Graves family in settling at Independence became prominent in that area and the late Henry C. Graves, uncle of Mrs. Davis, was one of the early Presidents of Baylor university.

Mrs. Davis was a student at Baylor at Old Independence and obtained her education in this oldest of Texas schools. During her early childhood the family lived in the neighborhood of the home of General Sam Houston who had settled at Independence following the liberation of Texas and his services as twice President of the Republic of Texas. A wife and a child of General Houston are buried near the old Baptist church at Independence. It was near the old church that General Houston was baptized

More Comment Comes In On Capt. Nat H. Tracy, Colorful Early Day Lawyer at Rockdale; This Time From Newton McDonald Who Remembers

Here is an interesting letter just mailed to Hon. E. A. Camp of Rockdale by Newton McDonald from his home in Anson, being a further comment on the colorful Capt. Nat H. Tracy, pioneer lawyer and Rockdale character:

Anson, Texas, June 4, 1946

Hon. E. A. Camp
Rockdale, Texas.

My dear Mr. Camp:

It was with much interest that I read in the Cameron Herald your story of the personality and character of Capt. Nat H. Tracy. To me you could not have written about a more familiar character. Your description of him was unique except you did not mention his high beegum hat. Many times have I, as a boy, stood and gazed at that boar's tooth dangling from his watch chain.

Captain Tracy was one of my father's very best friends. My father and his older brother hauled Mr. Tracy, his brother, Harry, and their families from Bryan to Davilla. The haul was made in ox drawn freight wagons. It took two and one-half days to make the trip. Rockdale had not started at that time. The I. & G. N. Railroad was completed as far West as Palestine, Texas.

The Tracy's came to Texas under the name of "Tussy," The reason for this was that up in Arkansas, Uncle Sam was making it a little warm for those who were impolite to some of his newly made citizens, and it was with that Derringer you mentioned, that Captain Tracy relieved an impudent negro constable of his social standing and duties as a peace officer.

Captain Tracy and my father enjoyed meeting on the streets of Rockdale and having a friendly conversation. One day while they were thus engaged, Captain Tracy gave my older brother and me fifty cents for our lunch that mother had prepared for us. He then told us to go to the McGuire restaurant and get us a good warm dinner. The lunch consisted of fried squirrel, buttered biscuits and honey. As Captain Tracy turned to go to his office he said, "I'll not go home to dinner today."

I shall never forget the McGuire restaurant. It was located then two doors south of the old McCawley saloon. I recall how much I wanted to help that negro boy pull the rope that kept the inverted Palmetto fans in operation to scare the flies off our table. It seemed to be such an easy

Sharp Senior Class Of 1941 In Reunion Sunday, May 26th

The Senior Class of 1941 of Sharp High school had a reunion on Sunday afternoon, May 26, 1946. The classmates met at Sharp school and enjoyed the gathering to discuss the good old days back in school, as well as the progress made by all since the graduation five years ago.

The class was well represented by its members with a high percentage present. Guests of the reunion were several of the teachers and two of the classroom parent sponsors.

Everyone enjoyed the afternoon of informal chats, and kodaking was enjoyed as a nevent of the day, and the pictures will be cherished in days to come. The climax of the reunion was the wonderful picnic which was spread on the school grounds. Possibilities of another reunion to be held in five years were discussed, but no definite decision was reached at that time and will be left to the discretion of the members of the class with plans to be made at a later date.

We wish to thank all of the members if the class, the sponsors, and the teachers who made a special effort to make this reunion a success.

Derringer Once Owned by Nat H. Tracy Was One Of Interesting Exhibits During Centennial; Camp of Rockdale Writes Tribute to Pioneer

This Derringer was given to me by Captain Nat H. Tracy, in 1903. Captain Tracy was one of the outstanding attorneys of Milam county from soon after the Civil War until his death, about 1903. He died an unreconstructed Confederate.

During his last illness, I was single and spent many nights sitting up with him in his home in Rockdale. He told me many of his experiences while in the Confederate Army, and shortly before his death he gave me this genuine Derringer, and gave me this history:

When General Lee surrendered, many of the Confederate soldiers broke ranks and went their respective ways instead of surrendering. Captain Tracy and his associates were among this number. Soon afterwards he became more or less a guerilla. Before long, he was captured by the Federal soldiers in Missouri, was court martialed, and was sentenced to be shot at sunrise on a certain date. With other prisoners, he was kept in a log stockade, supposedly guarded by Federal soldiers. On the night before he was to be shot at sunrise, someone appeared at the outside wall of the prison, and in a low whisper called for Tracy. Captain Tracy went to the wall and through a crack between the logs, some unknown person pushed in two (2) Derringers. Captain Tracy says he never learned the name of this unknown friend.

Tracy placed the Derringers in his coat pockets, and next morning about daylight, he was being marched from the prison to the place of execution with a Federal soldier as guard on each side of him. Knowing his time was short, he took a long chance and as the guards marched him along in the gray of dawn, without them noticing his acts, he placed his hands in his coat pockets and fired each Derringer into the body of the two guards. They fell, and Tracy ran, and was able to get away in the brush and finally made his way to Texas.

Captain Tracy gave me one of these Derringers and its history as above narrated. It was well known among the old settlers of Milam county that for some years Captain Nat H. Tracy lived in Central Texas, going under an assumed name. This he did until the Carpet-Baggers were driven out and the native Southerners again were in charge of our civil government.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 9.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king . . . . He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion" (Jeremiah 10:10,12).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "In the beginning God createdw the heaven and the earth" (Genesis 1:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "All that is made is the work of God, and all is good" (page 521).

Week-end guests of Mrs. R. K. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Anderson were; C. J. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Doucette and son, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Adams of Houston; and Mr. and Mrs. Louie T. Anderson of El Paso.

Announce Engagement Of Dr. Sam W. Law and Julia Verne Maxwell

The engagement of Miss Julia Verne Maxwell to Dr. Sam W. Law was announced at a tea given by Mrs. H. D. Maxwell to honor her daughter Sunday afternoon, when friends from Cameron, Bryan and Austin were among those attending the distinctive affair.

In the living room where the guests were welcomed, the scene resembled a lovely flower garden with graceful arrangements of Easter lilies, picardy gladioli, roses and sweet peas in varied hues, the whole forming a colorful background for the house party who were in attractive floor length gowns.

Forming the receiving line were Mrs. Maxwell, Miss Julia Verne Maxwell, Mrs. Roy Law of Cameron, Mrs. Edwin R. Hamilton of Vinton, Iowa. mother and aunt of the bridegroom elect, and Miss Marie Harwell of Houston, aunt of the bride-to-be.

Assisting further here was Mrs. Carter Newton of San Antonio, and Miss Geraldine Weed was in charge of the register. Mrs. Frances Turner directed the callers to the dining room where a motif of white and gold was accented in decorations and appointments.

The tea table, laid in filmy linen of embroidered cutwork and lace trim, had as its central interest a delicate bride-like arrangement of golden-centered white California daisies touched with sprays of soft maiden-hair fern that was reflected in a mirror surface.

Miss Mary Florence Marrs poured punch at the crystal bowl to one end of the table and at the opposite end the white squares of bride's cake were served by Miss Margaret Gest. Adorning the buffet was a low bowl filled with white carnations and greenery.

Dainty tea napkins revealed in gold lettering the names of couple and date of wedding, Julia Verne and Sam, June 2.

Wash-day Bright!

Your new All-Electric Laundry will be a Marvel of Convenience...

"Wash Day Bright" becomes a reality with an all-electric home laundry, which is properly lighted for the various laundry tasks.

Proper lighting plays a vital part in the operation of your home laundry, where plenty of well-directed, glareless light does away with eye-fatigue just as your automatic washer, dryer and ironer do away with the drudgery of washday.

Your home laundry should have general illumination throughout the room, while localized lighting units should be used to provide light free from shadows and reflected glare at the various working centers where the laundry is sorted, where spots are removed, and where ironing is done.

You'll be surprised and delighted when you see the pleasing difference proper lighting will make. See your Electrical Dealer today about plans for providing proper lighting in your laundry.

Since beginning this narrative many street scenes of early Rockdale have come to my mind. I can see now how the streets were crowded with wagons and teams. Some times the streets were so crowded on Saturdays that only a narrow passage was left in the center. I think it was in Rockdale that the story of the lady and the street sweeper originated. It was night. The street lights were poor. The lady, who had arrived on a belated train, was trying to mak her way to the old Gill Hotel. She asked the street sweeper to direct her. As she was walking away from the street sweeper she remarked, "I believe this is a one-horse town anyway." The street sweeper replied, "Oh, no lady! If you had my job you would not think so!"

And now, Mr. Camp, I must confess that I am still inclined to believe that Santa Claus was born and reared in Rockdale, I am during three War Loan Drives. In each of these drives Milam county over subscribed its quota.

The rationing of gasoline presented new problems to the County Superintendent and the County Board in maintaining bus transportation for the schools. Through close cooperation and untiring effort they worked out a plan which was approved by the Office of Defense Transportation and which offered maximum service to the children of Milam county.

Soon after Mr. Hicks became County Superintendent the W.P.A. ceased to exist and its school lunch program was discontinued. Under the Department of Agriculture a new school lunch program was instituted and the job of administering this program was added to the duties of the County Superintendent. This included the task of receiving and distributing commodities to the various schools participating in the program. One year eleven carloads of food were received and distributed by Mr. Hicks to the schools in Milam and adjoining counties.

The shift in population caused by the war has affected the schools of Milam county seriously. Loss of pupils in the rural areas has made it necessary in a number of cases to reduce the number of teachers. But in every case provisions have been made to give an approved school in the home district or to furnish adequate transportation to an accredited school.

Mr. Hicks promises to continue his work for the improvement of the schools in Milam county. He and the County Board have as their goal the recommendation of the State Department of Education which is to give every child in this county the opportunity to attend a fully accredited high school. In the future as in the past the educational welfare of the children will be of paramount importance to Mr. Hicks, and he asks your support in giving the best possible schools to your children.

progressed, the elderly group (the road to perfection) took over.

"'Follow in the foot-steps of my elders—a true road to perfection'—to me is a farce! As when the elderly group took over—for the major part the 'fun-having dance' turned into a 'drunken brawl.' Now, please don't mistake me. The majority of our parents conducted themselves as prescribed by Emily Post, but there is always that 1%—disgustingly drunk! Several of the elderly couples evidently came from a drinking party directly to the dance, where they staggered all over the floor, bumping into other couples, screaming at the top of their voices, and even so drunk that they fell to the floor while dancing. It was so overall disgusting, that I as well as several other teen-age girls asked our escorts to leave the dance.

"The teen-agers were sober—and having fun! One percent of our elders were drunk, disrupting, and disorderly! If it had been us who were drunk, we would have been taken home and scolded to within an inch of our lives—and talked about for our remaining days! 'Follow in the footsteps of our elders—a true road to perfection—?' What shall we do? Where do we find our guiding examples? Which way do we turn for an example — a true road to perfection?

"Yours sincerely,
"'A Future Child Delinquent.'"

by the late Dr. A. S. Burleson, Baptist leader and one of his companions of those stirring days before the Civil War was John H. Reagan who became Postmaster General in the cabinet of Jefferson Davis.

When Mrs. Davis was a young girl her parents moved to Sharp. Although her father was a dentist he never practiced at Sharp but instead engaged in ranching and became successful as a large land owner in the Lilac community.

As Miss Julia Graves, she married Dan G. Davis, pioneer and a Confederate soldier. Three brothers of Mrs. Davis became large land owners and ranchers in the communtiy at Sharp and Lilac. They were Fred A. Graves, Thomas H. Graves and George S. Graves. In the early days they gave the land and built the school at Lilac and later Fred A. Graves gave the site for the first Methodist church in Lilac and there many of the famous old-time revival meetings were held.

Dan G. Davis, the late pioneer, was an early settler and a pioneer merchant. After the civil war he returned to Sharp and became a land owner and established the pioneer firm of Dan G. Davis & Sons, a general merchandise store which is still in operation and managed by their sons, Will Davis and Judd Davis. The store and land operations built a large estate which includes cattle and farming inerests besides the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis were the parents of seven children, four of whom survive as follows: Mrs. T. M. Pace of Grand View, Will Davis of Sharp, Judd G. Davis of Cameron, and Mrs. B. F. Davis of Dallas. Three sons preceeded her in death. They were Fred, John and Dan Davis.

John H. Davis, a grandson, lives in Cameron and is assistant cashier at Citizens National Bank.

NAVY ANNOUNCES NEW ELECTRICAL COURSES

New Orleans—Civilian men and ex-service veterans will be able to take an intensive electrical training course which will qualify them for good Navy positions or civilian employment, Commander E. E. Garcia, USN, announced at Eighth Naval District Headquarters.

Due to the many recent Navy developments in radio, radar, and under-water sound gear and the shortage of qualified personnel in these fields, a special recruiting drive will be conducted from June 2 to June 20 throughout the Eighth Naval District to enlist men for study and duty in this branch, Commander Garcia said.

Commander Garcia is Recruiting Officer for the Louisiana area. Men with backgrounds or aptitude in electricity, physics, mathematics and engineering are particularly desired as applicants for the rating of Electronics Technicians Mate, it was pointed out. Applicants will be selected for this training according to findings of the Eddy electronics test which they will be required to take previous to enlistment.

Those who pass this test will be given a ten months training program at the ETM school at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Illinois. Upon successful completion of this course they will be assigned to duty in electronics.

Veterans of the Navy, Naval Reserve, Marine Corps, Army, and Coast Guard, who have been on active duty for six months, prior to discharge, may enter this program with ratings as Seaman First Class, ETM. Civilians may enter the program as Apprentice Seamen but will receive rapid promotion as they progress in the course.

Age limits are from 17 to 30 years of age. Men who have seen previous duty may add the number of years they have been on active service to 30 as their maximum age limit. An unlimited number of two, three, four and six year enlistments in Electronic Technician billets, are now open.

Men enlisting before August 6 will also be entitled to all benefits of the G. I. Bill of Rights, Commander Garcia explained. Family allowances will also be given to men joining before July 1.

Financial Report On Centennial Here Will Be Disappointing

While figures are far from complete, the balance sheet on the financial side of the Centennial celebration is slightly dark and disappointing.

O. B. Horstmann, chairman of the finance committee, said early Monday that a committee meeting will be held to make final disposition of the hang-over of details.

H. B. McClellen, treasurer, had received a large number of bills which as yet are unpaid.

The committee will have enough money to pay all obligations and a nice sum will be left over for the 1947 celebration but nothing like what was anticipated. In all the committee received about $21,000 in receipts and contributions. This figure does not include the money spent by the city for permanent improvements. It was estimated the total expenditure may reach $30,000. Rain ruined the Centennial, financially, but on the whole the celebration was a success.

Feed Prices Demand Culling of Flocks

The present ceiling prices on corn, wheat and other grains and protein concentrates means that heavy culling must be done in farm and commercial flocks if poultrymen hope to stay "in the black" on egg production, according to S. A. Moore, poultry husbandman of Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

"It takes around 11 pounds of feed to produce a dozen eggs from a hen that is laying at the rate of 80 eggs per year," Moore said. A 200-egg hen will lay a dozen eggs on 5 pounds of feed.

The poultry specialist estimated that 3½ million Texas hens, or about one out of seven in the average flock, was costing her owner money instead of bringing it in.

While culling "boarders" from the flock is always good business, it is especially necessary now because of the feed situation, he said. Many low-producing hens in poultry flocks are eating feed at the rate of four to five pounds per month, so two birds culled out now will save a sack of feed in the next year.

The feed so saved can go to relieve the food and feed shortage elsewhere, or two young birds can be raised up to production on what one old one would eat in the meanwhile.

WOODMEN CIRCLE MEETS IN DISTRICT CONVENTION

Krebs and Middlebrooks District convention of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle was held on Tuesday, May 28 at the Roosevelt Hotel in Waco.

The room was decorated with baskets, bowls, vases of camellias, azalias and purple iris. As each guest registered badges with their names were pinned on. The words "Welcome to Waco," were printed on the badges. Souvenirs were booklets of the Tau-Phi-Lambda, thimble ink blotters and a picture card of National headquarters building.

Registration began at 9:30 a. m. and the opening ceremony was at 10 a. m. with the Guardian of Escamilla of Grove No. 44 ,presiding. The theme of the convention was "Reaching for the Stars."

Distinguished guests introduced were: Mrs. Laura E. Krebs, Senate Manager of Central and Northeast Texas and a member of the National Advisory Committee, of Austin; Mrs. Olena White, National Representative and Past State Captain of Dallas; Mrs Mary Ledbetter, National Representative of Waco; Mrs. Mary Scarmado, National Representative of Waco; Mrs. Ella Mae Middlebrook, District Manager and National Representative of Waco; Mrs. Nettie Yarbrough, Senate President of Waco; Mrs. Marie Ann Laake, State Reporter, Cameron; Mrs. Lillian Bagley, visiting District Commander of Commanche, and Mrs. Cleo Flodder, Senate Outer Sentinel.

The meeting was then turned over to the program committee, Mrs. Mary Scarmado, Attendant Hertha Adams, Captain Catherine Owens and her team composed of Severeigns of the different Groves helped in the opening and introduction of officers.

Attendant Hertha Adams presented the flag of the United States and this was followed by the pledge of allegiance and the singing of America by the entire assembly with Mrs. Elizabeth Scarf of Waco at the piano.

The invocation was given by Rev. C. C. Sissions, which was an inspiring message. Women have always done fine things and will continue to do so. Quoting the Bible, he said: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and instruction."

The welcome address by Mayor Bush of Waco was a tribute to women. He said that in solving the problems of the nation leaders have always considered the opinion of women. Their ideals, he said, must be translated into action in our daily lives to make better citizens. He admonished: "Think not too much about the work you have to do nor contemplate too long the ground you must cover to reach your goal, lest you become uneasy and sit too long at the wayside or arrive too late."

Miss Mildred Matyastik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Matyastik, gave a reading, "America for Americans," by Loretta Taylor. This was a seven-minute speech and recited from memory.

Mrs. Laura Krebs gave the response, an informative talk briefly outlining the history of the Woodmen Circle and praised its standards. She delivered the address in her most charming style. She complimented the hostess Grove on the arrangement of the convention. She urged all Officers and Sovereigns to attend the first national Institute to be held in Denver, Colorado, October 9 to 12.

Mrs. Ella Mae Middlebrook for mastering the Ritual was given a certificate by Mrs. Nettie Yarbrough President of the Texas Supreme Forest, Woodmen Circle. Mrs. Mary Ledbetter of Waco received the title of Honorary District President for life from Mrs. Krebs, State Manager.

Ritual work included initiation of three members, all from Cameron, as follows: Mrs. Dempsey Allen, and two Junior graduates, Doris Jackson and Mildred Matyastik.

Austin Grove No. 3 received the cash award for having largest number of members present. The offering amounted to $8.00. This was followed by the secret work and closing ceremonies, as prescribed in the Ritual.

At the next district meeting, Mrs. Julia Brown will serve as third auditor, Mrs. Ida Johns as Junior Counsellor and Gladys Matyastik as Reporter. Serving as District Officers at the convention were Mesdames Marie Laake, Ida Johns and Gladys Matyastik.

Before adjourning the convention accepted the invitation of Austin Grove No. 3 as next hostess for the distirct meeting.

—Mrs. Gladys Matyastik, Reporter, Woodmen Circle Grove No. 996.

W. J. Watson left Sunday with his wife for their home in Fort Worth. Mr. Watson had been a patient at the Cameron Hospital for a week for treatment, and Mrs. Watson came down Saturday to take him home.

Grower Meetings Are Urged For Producers Of Texas Food Crops

With a big crop of perishable food already here and on the way to Texas, C. B. Ray, economist in marketing for the A. & M. College Extension Service, urges farmers to obtain packaging materials now if they will be needed for the coming season.

Mr. Ray also advises holding several grower meetings before the market season to "thrash out a few kinks" instead of waiting for a holiday in the market.

The crop situation on May 15, showed that the Rio Grande Valley shipped 357 of the nation's 374 cars of tomatoes while the Coastal Bend shipped 81 of Texas' 104 cars of onions. The national total was 121 cars. South Texas has already shipped more cars of onions than the entire state shipped last year. The market at that time was steady for both vegetables, Mr. Ray says.

Anyone interested in obtaining daily market news on fruit and vegetables can do so by writing U.S.D.A., Production Marketing Administration, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, 511 U. S. Court House, Fort Worth 2, Texas, and requesting to be placed on the mailing list for Miscellaneous Fruit and Vegetable Bulletin.

Mrs. Carroll Green Is Licensed Embalmer

Mrs. Carroll Green was recently licensed as an embalmer and became the first woman to hold that degree in the county, as far as records indicate.

Mrs. Green is a graduate of Baylor College in Belton and came to Cameron several years ago as assistant home demonstration agent. When war came Mrs. Green attended embalmers school in Houston two years and recently took the examination after serving in the Green Funeral Home for some time.

Carroll Green, husband of Mrs. Green, was recently discharged from the navy.

Employment Service Giving Information on Agricultural Work

Displaced war workers and veterans applying for jobs in the Cameron office of the United States Employment Service will now be able to get information about agricultural work through a cooperative agreement between the United States Employment Service and the State Extension Service, M. H. Nance, USES Local Office Manager, and J. W. Stufflebeme, Jr., Milam County agricultural agent, have announced.

This plan has been worked out to help the Extension Service through the County Agent to replace prisoners of war with experienced agricultural workers released from war plants and the Armed forces. Farmers needing agricultural workers should contact Mr. Stufflebeme. The Employment Service will refer those applicants for the agricultural openings meeting the job requirements specified to the County Agent's office.

All referrals returned to the USES by the county agent shows that the applicant referred is a claimant for either unemployment compensation benefits or readjustment allowances, the USES will notify the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission of these facts.

Bag Worm Infestation Bad Says Agent Here

Cedar trees and shrubs this year have received one of the heaviest infestations of bag worms in several years, according to J. W. Stufflebeme, Jr., county agent, and prompt treatment should be made while the insects are still in the infant age.

Infested trees or shrubs may be treated by spraying with three tablespoonfuls of lead arsenate in one gallon of water. When spraying is not practical, removing bags by hand is suggested. These may then be destroyed by burning.
